

PTSD: Problems, Technology, and Solutions in Dentistry

Course Description: Modern dentistry is evolving faster than ever. Practices and educational institutions are investing in the latest technology and graduates are seeking technology in practices. Better oral-systemic health, prevention-focused care, efficiency, and comfortable treatment are the goals of modern clinicians and the expectations of today's patients. Learn how various technologies can enhance treatment and how evidence-based literature can support technology!